Effective leadership in a Malaysian cultural context

Date: 29-30 June 2016
Time: 8:30am-5:00pm
Venue: CIMA Training Room, Lot 1.05, Level 1 KPMG Tower
8 First Avenue, Bandar Utama, 47800 Petaling Jaya
As a Malaysian in a leadership role, you would have read books on leadership and probably attended training as well. In most cases, those books and training sessions are designed and delivered based on 'western' cultural values. This training will help you understand what an effective Malaysian leader is and how they act and communicate with those they lead. You will not only learn how to get the most out of the team you lead, but how you can motivate your team to give you their best.

Training objectives:
• Understanding leadership within a Malaysian cultural context.
• Developing a clear understanding of what effective leadership looks like and how we personally measure-up.
• Learning how to generate better productivity through collaboration and influencing skills with finance and non-finance colleagues.
• Building strategic relationships within your team and with peers.
• Coaching for greater effectiveness.
• Transforming your organisation's objectives into SMART goals that are achievable.

Steve L. Muhs
B.A (UK) M.Ed. (US) (PSMB Certified Trainer)

Steve is a member of the global community having spent much of his life away from his home country of Canada. He began his career in the financial markets as a compliance and education specialist. However, he quickly realised he preferred a career focused on the development of human capital.

Since 2002 he has established his career in Malaysia working within the business and academic industries to grow strategic leadership and development programmes. In the past 10 years, he has coached and trained leaders within all sectors, including the government, GLCs and MNCs from East and West Malaysia.
