

Day one

9.15am	Hot Topics in Financial Reporting Jeremy Williams This update will appraise participants of all the latest developments in corporate reporting that are important for accountants working within industry. The focus will be on UK companies applying IFRS and UK GAAP, though the content will be highly relevant to those working in other jurisdictions. Topics covered will include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Latest developments in UK GAAP and IFRS• COVID 19 two years on – key challenges for accountants and auditors• Telling the story – important developments in narrative reporting and where to get help• Good and bad practice in statutory accounts – latest feedback from the Financial Reporting Council• Surviving your audit – important lessons from recent cases in the press
11.00am	Break
11.15am	Mental fitness Clare Haynes Do you wonder if there are limits to your stamina for change? Are you questioning how you (and your team) will adapt to hybrid home-office arrangements? Can the sense of having control, and losing it, feel like a rollercoaster? In this session we'll be guided by science, backed up by practical, simple techniques. You'll take away your own Mental Fitness Programme to help you manage, even when the odds seem against you. We'll cover: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Deconstructing what we know• Knowledge is power: The role of chemicals and understanding our reactions• Brain and body dynamics: Using biology to outsmart itself• Energy Saving: Your LED Plan
1.15pm	Close of day one

Day two

9.15am	Tax Update Claire Beaumont
	A round-up of the latest developments in personal and corporate direct taxation in the UK, and an update of key international tax issues affecting multinationals.
10.45am	Break
11.00am	Money: From Barter to Fiat and Crypto Ted Wainman
	From a white paper in 2009, Bitcoin now has a market capitalisation of over a trillion dollars (at the time of writing!). Is this the biggest bubble in history that will only end in tears? Or perhaps cryptocurrencies are bricks – the building blocks that represent the future of money? In this workshop we will examine a brief history of money. We will assess the implications of the last great financial experiment in 1971 and how Fractional Reserving and Quantitative Easing are (or might be) linked to the rise in populism. We will look at the narrative of Bitcoin – the advantages and disadvantages of this new asset class - and consider whether crypto really is a bubble or a brick. What will I learn? <ul style="list-style-type: none">• What is money? From the barter economy to fiat currencies• Fiat currencies: “In God We Trust”• How Commercial Banks create money• How Central Banks create money• Money creation & unintended consequences• Cryptocurrencies – a natural evolution?
1.15pm	Close of day two

Day three

1.30pm Communicating with Impact and Influence - How to use communication and influence to create value

David Klaasen

As the role of management accounting evolves into finance business partnering there is an increasing need for highly effective and impactful communication. As technology increases automation, there is a growing need for quality interactions including empathy and influencing skills. This engaging and interactive workshop will explore how to identify and use below conscious motivators in a way that helps people feel understood and more open to your ideas. It will also explore how to navigate the paradoxes of effective communication so you can influence, collaborate with, and add value to a broader range of people.

By the end of the workshop, you will be able to:

- Explore and learn the mindsets, habits and behaviours of expert communicators.
- Identify what is most important to your key stakeholders and use it to positively influence them.
- Understand your own communication preferences and how you can adapt them to have even more impact.
- Understand the barriers to effective communication and how to overcome them.
- Identify the below conscious motivators of others and utilise a number influencing techniques to get your message across.

4.30pm Close of day three